Stepping Into Your Power – Making a Difference in 2019

We are in the business of calculating, managing and assuming risks. But do we position ourselves to take risks within our own career?

At a time when our industry is facing an enormous amount of innovation and disruption, Liz Bentley will inspire us to think about how stepping into our power can open up opportunities to create change, have impact and make a difference. And Liz will challenge us to think about the risks we take when we hold back.

Liz Bentley is the founder and President of Liz Bentley Associates, a consulting firm specializing in leadership development programs. She is a nationally recognized keynote speaker and executive coach to top leaders and teams across a broad range of industries.

Having worked with hundreds of clients, Liz understands this fundamental truth: you can't change people but you can help them evolve into a better version of themselves. To help unlock barriers, Liz has developed powerful models that are built upon the most current research on how people perform best. She also has a unique appreciation of mindset and its power to transform behavior that's based on her lifetime of experience in competitive sports.

Through this groundbreaking work, Liz has become a thought leader in the industry. She delivers keynotes to top conferences and companies nationwide. Her ability to identify trends in human behavior also makes her a sought after expert in the media. Her advice has been featured in such media as Fast Company, The Washington Post, and Business News Daily along with her career advice column in Marie Claire.

Liz received her coach training from the NYU Certificate in Organizational and Executive Coaching program, and the David Rock Results Coaching System. She received her BA in Psychology from the University of Virginia
